

Aviation Scholarships Available

The Experimental Aircraft Association (EAA) is a growing and diverse organization of members with a wide range of aviation interests and backgrounds. Our mission is to grow participation in recreational aviation by inspiring new participants and enriching the experience for all who participate.

EAA's scholarship program encourages, recognizes and supports excellence among those studying the technologies and the skills of aviation. These annual scholarships help outstanding students who demonstrate financial need to accomplish their goals.

Applicants should be well-rounded, involved in school and community activities as well as aviation. Academic records should show that you can successfully complete the educational activity for which you are applying. Please check individual scholarship descriptions for any special considerations. Scholarships are available to support college tuition in aviation-related fields. In addition, you can also find a listing of scholarships which are available for individual flight training for obtaining pilot certification.

For a complete listing of scholarships available and details about applying, please see our website, www.EAA.org/scholarships.

Exciting Aviation Internship Available in Paris, France

DAHER-SOCATA and the Experimental Aircraft Association (EAA) are teaming together to offer two Summer 2015 internship opportunities to college students interested in pursuing aviation-related careers. The recipients will spend part of their summer at the DAHER-SOCATA facility in Tarbas, France. They will then attend a week-long EAA Advanced Air Academy in Oshkosh, Wisconsin, along with attending aviation's premier annual event, EAA AirVenture Oshkosh, at the end of July. Round-trip transportation and lodging are included for both experiences.

For more information or to apply, please see the details and application information on the EAA website www.EAA.org/scholarships. Application deadline is March 20.
